RENATA JAKOWLEFF WAS BORN IN BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, 1974

Renata Jakowleff is a Hungarian born glass artist living in Finland.

Jakowleff creates work that express emotions through associations aroused by the material. The diverse language of glass has been her focus since more than ten years. Jakowleff's work can be seen world wide in exhibitions, competitions and fairs devoted to glass, craft and contemporary art. Her works are included in public and private art collections, and are shown internationally in galleries and museums.

Besides her work in glass, Jakowleff is also the inventor and designer of Muotobetoni, a new technique to create three dimensional patterns and textures in concrete, used in the precast concrete industry.
